DEATH OF BERNADOTT SCHMITT.

Mr. Bernadott Schmitt died at his home in this place last Thursday morning, in the 70th year of his age.
Mr. Schmitt was the oldest business man in the town. He succeeded his father who opened a drug store in Woodstock in the year 1824. He was actively engaged in business at the beginning of the war. He was in the Confederate army for a short time, but upon the petition of the resident physicians, he was detailed to conduct the drug business in Woodstock. After the war he enlarged his store and later erected his handsome residence and drug store on Main street.
For several years he had been in declining health, but his business was successfully conducted by his son, Mr. N. B. Schmitt who now succeeds his father.

Mr. Schmitt spent his entire life in Woodstock. He was a careful, honest, painstaking and thoroughly reliable business man. He was a homeloving man. Almost his entire time, when not professionally engaged, was spent with his family. For a number of years he had been an active and prominent member of the Reformed Church. His wife died July 1st, 1897. He is survived by three children, Mr. N. B. Schmitt and Miss Genie Schmitt, of this place and Prof. Cooper D. Schmitt, of Knoxville, Tenn. and two sisters, Mrs. Cornelia Cooper, of Washington, D. C. and Mrs. Leah Coffman, of this county.

His funeral services were conducted in the Reformed Church on Friday afternoon by his pastor Rev. N. H. Skyles, assisted by Rev. P. D. Stephenson, D. D., and his body was buried among the members of his family in the Lutheran Cemetery. A good man has gone from among us.

Little Invalid Boy Burned to Death.
Robert Jones, a five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jones of New Market, died Monday morning as a result of frightful burns received at his home Saturday afternoon. The child lived through forty hours of torture swathed in bandages from head to foot, and passed away in agony.

The fire occurred about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, while the boy, an invalid almost since his birth, was alone in the house. His mother had gone to a store only a short distance away, and during her absence a quantity of clothing, which had been left lying on the floor near a hot stove, became ignited. The flames spread to the bed on the far side of the room, in which the helpless child lay.

Wallet Lost and Found.
Dennis O'Neil went from Strasburg to Stephens City one day last week to take the train to Winchester. He had in his pocket a purse containing something more than $500. He got some lime on his coat at the depot and took off the coat to brush it. The wallet fell out. He did not miss it until he was on the train and it had started. He attempted to jump off to get it, but the conductor refused to permit this, and stopped the train.

Mr. O'Neil hurried to the spot where he had cleaned his coat and there found his money lying on the ground.

MISS LILLIA M. SHAFER, 1 no. Woodstock, Va.

Mr. J. W. Heppner treated his boarders to an excellent dinner on Thanksgiving day, the menu of which was published in last week's HERALD. There were also present a number of invited guests who received the attention of the proprietor and his polite clerk Mr. J. A. Burgess, Jr. The dining room was well filled and all seemed to greatly enjoy the occasion. The Hotel Geary is very popular with the travelling public, and it frequently happens that every room in the house is occupied.

THE APPLE CROP OF 1905.

An estimate made by several prominent apple dealers of the county puts the number of apples shipped from Shenandoah county at something over 50,000 barrels. These same gentlemen estimate the number of barrels shipped two years ago, 1903, at between fourteen and fifteen thousand barrels. After allowing for the summer apples shipped this year, it is evident that there has been a large increase in the crop of winter apples. This will be the case for a number of years, for each year a large number of trees come into bearing, while the young trees that bore this year will each year produce large crops.

Another important feature is that our people now realize the importance of giving their apple orchards greater attention. Trees—need fertilizers as much as do other crops. They need attention to protect the trees from scale, and the fruit from funguses, the codling moth and other enemies. The Baltimore Sun says over 200,000 barrels of apples have been shipped from the Virginia apple belt this season. This is certainly an underestimate. The four counties of Frederick, Shenandoah, Rockingham and Augusta have shipped more than 200,000 barrels and there are 55 counties in the Virginia fruit belt.

The principal feature of The Fair this year is the moving picture exhibition given by The Peerless Motion Picture Company, under the direction of Mr. Geo. H. Thomas, Manager. They were "about any exception the finest that have ever been shown in the Valley." The selection of views as excellent and as true to nature as it is possible to make them. One can hardly realize that they are only looking at photographic reproductions. It seems to read and lifelike. Mr. Thomas is the originator of The Illustrated Song business and has brought this feature of an entertainment to a very high standard. It is to be hoped that the fair will be well patronized as the varied entertainment offered is certainly well worth seeing. Parties who go to see these wonderful moving pictures will never regret it. All who were present on Tuesday and Wednesday nights speak in the highest praise of them.
